Are you looking for high-quality interns?

The New Hampshire Environmental Educators invite you to an evening with Environmental Education and Environmental Studies graduate students from Antioch University New England. The students will share with us some past internship experiences and ideas for future internships. If you have internship needs in these areas, please consider joining us. The evening will include a presentation by the students, a roundtable discussion, followed by time to mingle.

Date: Monday, February 22, 2010
Time: 6 to 8 p.m.
Cost: $5 for pizza and drinks
Location: N.H. Fish and Game Dept.
